Figure 1. Sample trial where participants selected between should and could to describe a 20% probability outcome. Additional tested contrasts were: can-could, could-will, should-will.
Figure 2. Modal selections by age group (panel columns) and outcome probability (panel rows). Bars are color coded to reflect proportions of selections of each modal verb in the tested contrast, while the dotted line marks chance responding (50%).